Robinson named residential manager at Ottumwa Residential Facility

Ted Robinson

District Director Daniel T. Fell announced the promotion of Ted Robinson to residential manager of the Ottumwa Residential Facility effective Aug. 11. Robinson, a longtime resident of Wapello County, has been employed by the Eighth Judicial District Department of Correctional Services for 18 years serving as a residential officer and an interim lead residential officer before being promoted to executive officer and eventually residential supervisor at the Ottumwa facility.

Robinson will oversee all operations at the facility that serves, at capacity, 61 male and 15 female residents as they transition back to their communities after incarceration or serving a probation or parole sanction. The facility also has 15 full-time staff members and nine part-time employees.

“I believe Ted has the right skills and attitude to be successful in managing the facility, which is critical to our mission of safeguarding communities and providing residents an opportunity to return to their communities as productive citizens,” Fell said.

Robinson holds a bachelor’s degree in education from the University of Nebraska at Omaha.
